HISTORY AND PREMISES

The Royal Academy of Music, which is one of the oldest institutions of advanced musical training in Europe, celebrated its 150th Anniversary in 1972. It was founded in 1822 through the exertions of John Fane (Lord Burghersh), Eleventh Earl of Westmorland, and began its public work in 1823 under direct patronage of His Majesty King George IV, who granted it a royal charter in 1830. The Royal Academy has enjoyed the Patronage of the reigning Sovereign ever since.

The present main building in Marylebone Road was erected in 1910-11. It contains a concert hall (the Duke's Hall), a new opera theatre (the Sir Jack Lyons Theatre), a Concert Room, and many classrooms, seminar rooms and studios for individual tuition. Important expansion of these facilities is in progress.

The Royal Academy premises extend from Marylebone Road to York Terrace East. A large part of this northern area of the site is occupied by the Library, opened by Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother in 1968. The Library possesses important manuscripts and early printed music; for general use there are very extensive reference and lending collections available to professors and students. In 1938 Sir Henry Wood (Conductor of the Students' Orchestra 1923-44) presented to the Academy his library of 3,000 orchestral scores and 2,000 complete sets of orchestral parts. These are now housed in a new Orchestral Library, together with the Academy's general collection of orchestral material. Recent gifts to the Library have included the Otto Klemperer collection of scores and personalia. Other bequests and gifts have continually increased the range and scope of the Library.

The Manson Room contains a large range of electronic equipment and other facilities for composers. The Arnold Bax Room houses the collection of modern pictures left to the Academy by the late Harriet Cohen. In addition, the Academy has received from generous donors many valuable instruments which are allotted, under certain conditions, for the use of talented students and distinguished former students. There are five organs for teaching and practice.

COURSES OF STUDY

There are two main courses: the Performers' Course (including Composition), which leads to the Professional Certificate; and the Graduate of the Royal Schools of Music Course, which leads to the diploma G.R.S.M. (carrying honours degree status). The Performers' Course is of three or four years' duration; the basic course lasts three years, but in many cases a further year of specialised study is essential, and applications for grants should be made with this possibility in view. Students will normally be expected to have taken the L.R.A.M. Diploma before the end of the third year. Courses are full-time; there are no facilities for part-time study. All academic arrangements are subject to the approval of the Principal.

PERFORMERS' COURSE

The course includes weekly lessons and classes as follows:

A principal study (one hour).

A second study (half an hour).

Music Techniques (Harmony, etc.) (half an hour individual tuition or an equivalent time in class).

Aural training and sight-singing (one hour or more).

History of music and musical style.

Foreign languages (for those taking singing or conducting as a principal study).

In addition, classes, seminars or lectures (some of which are compulsory) are available to students at various stages of the course, dealing with Repertoire, Interpretative Analysis and Musical Criticism. Students may also apply to take part in Master-Classes given by distinguished international artists from time to time.

The following subjects may be taken as principal or second study:

Composition	Oboe
Pianoforte	Clarinet
Pianoforte accompaniment (not before second year of basic course)	Bassoon
Organ	Horn
Harpsichord	Trumpet
Singing	Trombone
Violin	Tuba
Viola	Timpani and Percussion
Violoncello	Harp
Double Bass	Guitar
Flute	Lute
	Conducting
	(additional principal study only)

The following subjects may be taken only as second study: History of Music, Recorder, Viola da gamba, Lute, Saxophone.

Orchestral playing, choral singing, chamber music, orchestration, opera, choir training and piano accompaniment are required parts of the course according to the student's speciality.

Examinations have to be passed during each year's training, and students who fail to qualify in these may be required to repeat a year of the course or to withdraw from it altogether.

The Professional Certificate is awarded to students who reach a satisfactory standard at the end of the three-year basic course. The Recital Diploma or Orchestral Diploma (Dip. R.A.M.), the highest student award, may be obtained after further study.

G.R.S.M. COURSE

(A detailed Syllabus is available on request)

This three-year course, covering performance, music techniques (harmony, etc.), keyboard harmony, history and analysis, leads to the Diploma 'Graduate of the Royal Schools of Music, London' which is awarded to successful candidates after an examination held jointly with the Royal College of Music. The Diploma is recognised by the Burnham Committee as entitling the holder to receive an addition to salary on honours graduate basis. In order to achieve the status of Qualified Teacher, students must take a further year of training which is available at various University Departments of Education and at certain Colleges of Education, entitling successful students to a Music Teacher's Certificate.

Training for the G.R.S.M. Course can only begin in the Autumn Term each year, and students must be eighteen years old by 31st December in the year in which they begin the course. Candidates must have obtained a minimum of five passes in the G.C.E., two of which must be at 'A' level, or an equivalent that is acceptable to the Department of Education and Science. (A Grade 1 pass in the C.S.E. is rated as the equivalent of a G.C.E. 'O' level pass.) Candidates must have a good keyboard facility, and are required to take a keyboard instrument as their principal or second study (minimum level Grade VI). Examinations have to be passed at the end of each year's training, and students who fail to qualify in these may be required to repeat a year of the course or withdraw from it altogether.

ADVANCED COURSE

Principal study (extended tuition) and other requirements; these include: orchestral playing, chamber music, opera, vocal, ensemble training and foreign languages, according to the student's speciality.

UNIVERSITY DEGREES

The B.Mus. Course of London University is available to R.A.M. students. This course provides special opportunities for performers. Applicants are required to attend the normal entrance examination at the Academy and to satisfy the minimum entrance requirements of the University, i.e. two 'A' levels (one of which should be Music at a high mark) and five 'O' levels. The syllabus for B.Mus. can be obtained from the Senate House, London University, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU.

ORCHESTRAS

Orchestral experience is a basic requirement of training. There are four orchestras, and admission to these is by audition. The Symphony and Repertoire Orchestras normally have two three-hour rehearsals weekly, the Chamber Orchestra and Training Orchestra normally one rehearsal a week. All orchestras give concerts at least once a term. Orchestral classes for woodwind and brass players are also available.

CHOIRS

All first-year students, other than those allocated to orchestras, are required to attend the main Choir, which meets for a two-hour rehearsal once a week. Principal-study singers will be required to attend choir and sight-singing classes as directed; they may also be required to sing in the Opera chorus. Other smaller choirs are organised for special events, as required.

CHAMBER MUSIC

Students have the opportunity of forming ensembles of every kind and a large number of string quartets and chamber music groups with and without piano receive regular training at various levels. Ensembles appear frequently at concerts and can compete for prizes and other awards.

OPERA CLASS

The opera class is for the training of singing students who are considered to possess the necessary qualifications. Operas are rehearsed, in preparation for performance, on lines similar to those prevailing in professional opera companies. In addition to the opportunity to perform opera and increase their repertoire, students are given tuition in the interpretation of operatic music and attend classes in movement. The more advanced students are also given opportunities to acquire experience in stage-management. Conducting students are trained as répétiteurs, and are given opportunities to conduct rehearsals and, occasionally, performances.

CONDUCTORS' CLASSES

Conducting can be taken only as an additional principal study. Entry to the First-year and the Advanced Classes is by competitive examination held in the first half of the Summer Term. The class is normally restricted to four students in each year, and preference is given to students already in the Academy. Tuition includes: baton technique, repertoire, languages, score-reading and conducting experience with the Repertoire and Training Orchestras.

CONCERTS

Participation in concerts, particularly by those taking the Performers' Course, is a required part of professional training, and substantial opportunities for concert experience are provided either in the Academy or in various locations outside.

REVIEW WEEKS

At the end of the Autumn and Spring terms there are 'Review Weeks' devoted to intensive concert-giving, special extra-curriculum musical activities and lectures on subjects of general artistic, social and scientific interest.

AWARDS AND PRIZES

There are numerous scholarships, exhibitions and prizes available to students.

TUTORS

Every student is allocated to a tutor, from whom advice can be sought on general academic and personal questions.

TUITION ARRANGEMENTS

The allocation of students to Professors is at the discretion of the Principal. Any change in a student's curriculum, whether of subject or professor, must be approved by the Principal or Director of Studies in writing; students are not permitted to negotiate directly with Professors with reference to such changes.

ADMISSION

Entrance examinations for entry in the Autumn Term 1979 will be held at the Academy on 2nd-6th April 1979. Application for admission, on the official entry form together with the entrance fee of £7.50, must reach the Registrar not later than 1st January. Late applications will be considered if received not later than 1st February and accompanied by a late fee of £3 in addition to the entrance fee. If the applicant is not considered eligible for the entrance examination the entrance fee only will be refunded. Half the entrance fee will be refunded if the application is withdrawn in writing and notification of this is received by 31st December.

All candidates are required to attend an entrance examination at the Academy: they will be expected to perform to a high standard two contrasting pieces of their own choice in their principal study, and one piece of their own choice in their second study; they will also be given sight-reading, ear tests and questions on general musicianship; and they should bring with them substantial examples of harmony workings. G.R.S.M. candidates will also be given keyboard harmony tests and should bring samples of written work (such as essays) with them. Candidates offering composition as their principal study must send to the Registrar examples of their work at least four weeks before the date of the entrance examination. An accompanist will be available if necessary, but candidates are strongly advised to bring their own if possible. Overseas applicants should offer tape-recordings or cassettes of their performances. If these are satisfactory they will be invited to attend Entrance Examinations on Monday 10th and Tuesday 11th September 1979. Candidates who are offered such an examination are asked to contact the Academy on their arrival in London. It must be understood that the offer of an entrance examination in no way guarantees admission to the Academy. Students wishing to take the G.R.S.M. Course must have obtained the requisite number of passes in the G.C.E., as outlined on page 11.

ENTRANCE SCHOLARSHIPS

Details of a limited number of entrance scholarships offered for competition are obtainable in January by application to the Examinations Manager. The closing date for applications in 1979 is Wednesday 7th February. Competitions are held in the Spring Term.

POST-GRADUATE ENTRY

Suitably qualified post-graduate students may be admitted to the Performers' Course, or to the Advanced Course (for one or more years); application should be made as above. Applicants for the Advanced Course will be expected to offer an appropriately high standard of performance.

Refresher Courses are available to former Academy students; further details and fees are available on application to the Director of Studies.

COURSES FOR JUNIORS

There are two types of courses for Juniors:

- (a) The Junior School, provides tuition on half a day a week for a limited number of students of exceptional promise below the age of fifteen. Students between the ages of fifteen and eighteen are classed as Intermediate Students, and are offered additional instruction. Applications for admission should be submitted, together with an Entrance Fee of £1, to the Warden, from whom further particulars may be obtained.
- (b) The Junior Exhibitioners' Course. Exhibitions are awarded by Local Education Committees to children still attending school who are accepted (by annual audition) for the Saturday morning course, which offers comprehensive musical instruction with classes, choirs, orchestras and chamber music groups, as well as individual instrumental teaching. The average age of entrants is eleven, but there are no rigid limits. Places are also available for private fee-paying candidates: application, together with an Entrance Fee of £1, should be made to the Director, Junior Exhibitioners' Course.
